Length: June 1st – August 20th 2021

Location: Nashville, Tennessee

Work hours: 20 (min) - 35 (max) hours a week

Application Deadline: March 5, 2021

This is an unpaid internship.

Organization Summary

The mission of the Tennessee Holocaust Commission is to educate Tennesseans about the history of the Holocaust, seeking to remind citizens that prejudice, hatred and violence, as manifested in the Holocaust and other genocides, leads to the destruction of a humane society.

In 1984, the Tennessee Holocaust Commission was created through an act of the state legislature with the purpose of educating others about and commemorating the Holocaust. In 1996, new legislation recreated the commission to recognize its primary role as education and to create a parallel not-for-profit body. This agency's Commissioners, appointed by the governor, function as part of the commission as a whole.

The Tennessee Holocaust Commission, now one of the most celebrated organizations of its kind in the nation, provides a variety of educational services and opportunities. These frequently include the creation and implementation of resources, workshops, conferences, exhibits, learning and in-service seminars, as well as publications for the educational and general community. Each year, the commission supports annual Days of Remembrance across the state, including an observance on the Capitol grounds. It has facilitated primary educator learning opportunities for study in Washington D.C. and Europe. Furthermore, it is committed to continuing the growth of Holocaust education throughout the state of Tennessee.

Duties and Responsibilities

The Tennessee Holocaust Commission requires the services of an intern to support the Commission's ongoing work to support the educators within the state of Tennessee with their efforts to teach the Holocaust. The intern's areas of responsibility will include:

- Coordinating and otherwise supporting professional development opportunities for the Commission's Teacher Fellows.
- Organizing and expanding the Commission's book offerings for teachers around the state.
- Researching current Holocaust educators and speakers for potential partnerships.
- Developing engagement strategies and guides for ongoing curatorial projects
- Opportunities available for independent research projects or thesis research, per the discretion of the Commission. If you have a current project you are currently working on, please describe this project and its relationship to the work of the Commission in your cover letter.

In addition to the above duties and responsibilities, all interns will participate in a weekly professional development seminar and Holocaust education sessions. The goal of these seminars are to educate interns on the history of the Holocaust and to prepare interns for the cultural non-profit workforce.

Minimum Qualifications

Required:

- Knowledge of general 20th century European history; some knowledge of World War II and Holocaust-era history
- Experience or familiarity with middle and high school education. This can be either experience with formal education, within a classroom environment, or informal education, such as museums, historical sites, non-profits, etc.

- Strong research and writing skills
- Strong computer skills, including familiarity with Microsoft Office and Adobe suite
- Attention to detail
- Ability to work effectively with minimal supervision
- The completion of at least one semester (or equivalent) of college-level coursework. AP level high school coursework may be considered for exceptional applicants.
